EDMONTON.
Bulletin, July 23.
D. McLeod left for Calgary on Saturday last.
River at a good height for steambotting and still rising.
Brown & Curry received 30 tons of freight by the North-West.
Jas. Pruden of Beaver lake has discovered a seam of excellent coal in that vicinity. The seam is not thick, however.

The beef required on the police contract now advertised, to run until June 30th '88, will amount to over 42,000 pounds.

The wholesale purchases of fur this season at Edmonton amount to over $60,000, mostly made by the H. B. Co. This is nearly as much as last year although the number of lynx has been reduced to almost none and the price has fallen as well. Beaver and bear have been higher than ever before, and they are the principal furs which find a market here, barring in occasional seasons lynx and muskrat.

The funeral of James Geddes, who died at the Hermitage on Friday morning, will take place at the Edmonton cemetery immediately after morning service in All Saints church to-morrow. Deceased was a native of Scotland, resided some time at Kildonan, Manitoba, and more lately at Qu'Appelle, Assa, where he owned a farm at the time of his death. He arrived about five weeks ago in company with one William Alexander and another man, also of Qu'Appelle, on the way to Peace river on a general prospecting tour. On arrival here it was found that the consumption from which Geddes was suffering was too far advanced to allow of his proceeding. He was taken to the Hermitage for treatment, and his companions after a short delay proceeded on their journey. Deceased disposed of his property, comprising live stock, wagons, farm, etc., by will before his death. He leaves no relatives in Canada. P. G. Gray, Banker, and J. H. Tolford, M. D., are executors of the estate.

BATTLEFORD.
Saskatchewan Herald:
It having been decided to divide the Indian Agency and to make a new one of Moosomin's and Thunder-child's reserves jointly with those on the Battle River, and another to comprise the Eagle Hills group, tenders for the erection of the necessary buildings on Moosomin's and the Stony reserve are called for.

The announcement in the telegrams of last issue that Chief Fes-tor Hardisty of this place is to be appointed a senator for the Northwest will be received with general satisfaction. Although not an experienced politician the large support he received in the late election contest showed that personally and politically he was acceptable to a very large majority of the electors. More so than any other man whose name has been brought forward in connection with the Alberta senatorship. Even aside from this consideration altogether, Mr.
Hardisty is undoubtedly the most suitable and generally satisfactory choice that could be made.—Edmonton Bulletin.

Prophetic hymns, Metrical hymn books, books, prayer books, etc., at Ten Pianos store.

It is understood that the following bills passed at the last session of the Manitoba Legislature have been disallowed: The Manitoba Central Railway act, the Winnipeg and Southern Railway act, and the Enterprise and Northwest Railway act.

DIOCESE OF QU'APPELLE.
Winnipeg Free Press.

The Diocese of Qu'Appelle is contiguous with the District of Assiniboia, and thus is about 450 miles long by about 200 wide. The eastern portion is fairly settled, the central very sparsely, whilst the western is fast being filled with cattle and sheep ranches, over a million acres having been leased for that purpose in the past year, in the district of Medicine Hat and Maple Creek. The C. P. R. running through it from east to west forms the great highway, and its stations the centres of population.
The chief towns being Moosomin, Qu'Appelle, Regina, Moose Jaw and Medicine Hat. This district, which was formerly part of the vast Diocese of Rupert's Land, was created a separate diocese in 1883, and its first bishop is the Honorable John Adelbert John Robert Anson, M.A., and D. C. L. Dr. Anson, a younger son of the late (and brother of the present) Earl Lichfield, was educated at Eaton and Christ Church, Oxford, where he graduated in 1862, and after passing through Lichfield Theological College, was ordained Deacon in 1864, and Priest 1865, in Lichfield Cathedral by the bishop of that diocese, and became Curate of St. John's, Wolverhampton in the Midland Counties. In 1886 he was appointed Curate in charge of St. Leonard Bilston, a manufacturing town in the heart of the coal field and black country, a place which afforded full scope for the indefatigable energies and deep earnestness of its parish priest. In 1868 Wm. Anson was appointed to Michael's, Handsworth, a large and growing parish in the suburbs of Birmingham. In 1870 Sedgely, another large parish in the midland counties was committed to his charge, and he was also appointed Rural Dean of the district. Here
Mr. Anson

WORKED MOST VIGOROUSLY and successfully until in 1875, the very important parish of Woolwich, with a population of over 10,000, was intrusted to him by the Bishop of the diocese. Woolwich is a very difficult parish to work, for not only is its population so vast as to be almost beyond the control of one man even when assisted by a large staff of curates, but also on account of the poverty of the great majority of the people.
But here again hard work, intense earnestness, admirable organization and frequent service told and were crowded with a large measure of success. In 1883, however, and mainly through the observance of the day for special intercession for the mission work of the church, Mr.
Anson resolved to give himself to the foreign mission work of the church, and in the autumn of that year resigned the rectory of Wool-wich and put himself in the hands of the Bishop of Rupert's Land as mission priest in the Northwest, who at once appointed him as his commissary in the district of Assiniboia.
Mr. Anson returned to England the same winter to collect funds and men, and lay before the people the needs of the country. He raised some £2,500, and also a fund of subscription for five years. The plan he laid before himself was the Apocryphal one of sending clergy out two by two, who, having food and raiment supplied, should be therewith content. This plan has been somewhat modified to meet the needs and exigencies of a country with such a sparse and widely scattered population, though adhered to whenever possible.

In the meantime the Archbishop of Canterbury, to whom the appointing of a bishop for this district had been intrusted, strongly urged Canon Anson to accept the bishopric which he at first refused, but was finally prevailed upon to accept.

He was consecrated in Lambeth Parish Church, together with the lately martyred Bishop Hamington, of Central Africa, on St. John the Baptist's Day, June 24th, 1884, the late Bishop of Saskatchewan preaching the sermon, and shortly sailing with a few clergy and lay readers, arrived at Regina on St. James Day, July 26th, and at once

BEGAN HIS ARDUOUS WORK.
At first the bishop made his headquarters at Regina, but very shortly afterwards his house was burned down, and though most of the library was saved, all the bishop's outfit, valuables, and papers were destroyed. By the vote of the Synod the name of the see was made Qu'Appelle. His lordship has made Qu'Appelle Station his residence, the very pretty little church there his Protestant Cathedral.

About one and one-half miles north of the town stands St. John's College, which combines the three purposes of Theological College for the training of the future clergy of the diocese, a Brotherhood of Labor, whereby men who desire to work for God and His church may give the labor of their hands on the farm and in the college, and a training college for farm students, who are instructed by a thoroughly competent and practical instructor.
This is a fine building, located on a half section of good farm land, owned by the Bishop. To the left stands the Bishop's house, which, though nice, is hardly worthy of the title of a palace. To the left of this again stands another fine building, which is a boarding school for boys. The three buildings are connected by covered ways, and thus have easy communication with the beautiful little chapel which stands at the back of the Bishop's residence. The money for the College was mostly given by an anonymous donor of £1,500, the school by another anonymous donor of £1,000. It is to be hoped that great good may result to the diocese from this delightful center, where the object is to combine "plain living with high thinking" and to develop true manly Christianity. The college is quite full, the prospects of the crops are good, and it is hoped that the school may very shortly be opened with an excellent master at its head. The work in the diocese is gradually telling, and the whole vast district is covered with a network which, though thin, and at places stretched almost to breaking covers all the people. There have been not a few losses of clergy to this diocese through ill-health and other causes, but four priests are coming out from England in the autumn, and then its staff will be strong and thoroughly efficient.

There must now be quite 20 churches in the diocese, well and many handsomely furnished, and all paid for, and a bright future lies before a diocese with such an able and devoted bishop at its head loyally backed up by a body of clergy intensely earnest and thoroughly efficient in every respect.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

The next word for the Leader dictionary is "gomben." See article on "Sham homesteading."

We have written very little editorial this week just to see what the Regina Leader will say.

Mr. W. D. Perley, M. P. for East Assiniboia, will be honored with a complimentary dinner at the Queen's hotel, Qu'Appelle, on Tuesday, the 18th inst.

And so the Leader editor is tired—he ought to be—and has handed the last two copies of THE PROGRESS to the printer's devil to be dealt with. No doubt he will acquit himself better than his daft senior.

The Macleod Gazette goes for the Regina Leader for its "disgraceful Journalism" in a way that is neither childlike nor bland. Being fully in accord with the Gazette on that subject, we transfer the article to our columns. Of course the editor of the Leader weeps and blusters, but he has well nigh written himself into a harmless condition. Next.

Attention is directed to the letter of Mr. W. D. Perley, M. P., in other columns in reference to the Assiniboia agricultural shows. It is desirable that the deepest interest should be taken in these exhibitions, and that no effort be spared to ensure their success. It is to be hoped that the various societies will respond to the call of Mr. Perley, and that there will be a full representative meeting at Wolsley on Saturday.

The cry-baby published at Edmonton is never satisfied unless howling about something. Its yawns are particularly vigorous when it can rake up anything to say about the Indian Department, and his honor the Indian Commissioner. A recent issue has a long yell at the Presbyterian and Methodist bodies and Mr. Dewdney, at the former because they have become better informed on Indian affairs, and are willing to concede that the Indians of the Northwest are well cared for by the Department, though both to admit that they were misinformed two years ago, and at the latter because—because—because—we give it up. Nobly notices the poor baby's sobbing away except the one horse mis-lead.

Dr. Clark's Symplocaria cure will kind of blood diseases from a common people to the West. One of Sir John's Chances. Write there is a picture of a man in a top hat.

DISGRACEFUL JOURNALISM.

Macleod Gazette.

The attention of the press of the entire Northwest has been attracted in a very unpleasant manner to a senseless discussion which is going on among some of the newspapers in Assiniboia. We say senseless, because that is the only word that can properly be applied to it. Billingsgate of the very lowest description is scarcely excusable in a newspaper even when it is applied in a discussion between two or more newspapers of opposite views on some public question, but to resort to this obnoxious habit when the only object is a contest to see which paper can lead in the abuse, is to reduce journalism to the very lowest depths of degradation, and to destroy every object for which a newspaper is supposed to be printed.

The Regina Leader is the chief offender at the present time, and if its editor had a single grain of common sense left, he would take the snubs which he is receiving from almost all his territorial brethren as signs that his bullying abuse has gone quite far enough; that it is not in the least smart or witty, and that it is time he gave the few and long suffering readers of the Leader a much needed rest. The present editor of the Leader has a quarrel on hand with almost every newspaper in the Northwest, just as he had when he was at Calgary where he ran a newspaper into the ground through the same tactics which he is now following. The Gazette was then the chief object of his abuse and some very choice language was then indulged in. The Leader has not now referred to the Gazette in any but the most complimentary terms, but even at the risk of having the Leader's nozzle empty its unsavory contents upon us, we must add our voice to those who are trying to put down this plague spot on decent journalism.

In recent editorials, the Leader has referred to the editor of THE QU'APPELLE PROGRESS as a baboon, a Pecksniff, a Uriah Heap, a ruffian, a blackguard and sundry other equally elegant expressions. This is a disgrace to decent journalism, and is only worthy of a man who is not responsible for what he says or does. The Leader, in spite of its vain pretensions, has never been better than a third rate paper. In every respect it has always been one of the poorest in the Northwest. Its only mission seems to have been to sound the praises of its vain glorious proprietor, and it has succeeded in making a laughing stock of itself both East and West. It has a reputation! Yes, so it has, but it is the same kind of a reputation that a clown in a circus has. Of late it has dropped still lower, until it is really unfit to read by ladies and children. It is to be hoped that the territorial press will so sternly discountenance the present tactics of the Leader that its editor, if he is not quite a fool, will realize that, even the great and powerful leader of Northwest opinion cannot longer afford to continue it.

C. P. R. SUBSIDY.

The Mail's special cable says: The council of the Colonial institute presented an influentially signed memorial to Goschen to-day in favor of establishing steam communication between Canada and Hong Kong in connection with the Canadian Pacific Railway. The memorial points out in detail the advantages of the new route for all purposes and says the growth of the empire in the Pacific will be much stimulated by the route. Having regard to the smallness of the subsidy as compared with the advantages the memorial compels the matter most strongly to the earnest and favorable consideration of the government, as one of the utmost importance to the empire, whether in the political, commercial or military aspect of the question. Mr. Goschen, in reply, gave assurance that the Canadian proposal was being carefully and sympathetically considered by the government.

Woman's Crusade.

THE ORIGIN AND HISTORY OF THE W. C. T. U.

THE SPECIAL OBJECTS OF THE ORGANIZATION.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union is an organization little more than twelve years old. Its membership is about 260,000, representing the United States, Great Britain, Canada, Australia, Hawaii, Islands, Japan and China. It has been called the sober, second thought of the "woman's crusade," its systematic and organic form. The cabalistic letters "W. C. T. U." have been defined by some to mean "We come to unite," and by others "We come to upset." Both of these renderings may be accepted, having reference to good and evil respectively, but they mean much more than this. They mean that this society, while it does not propose a creed test, is composed of women who are at first all Christian, and whose supreme purpose and desire is the elevation of all that is pure and peaceful, the overthrow of evil in every form, and the up-building of Christ's kingdom in the earth.

A SPECIFIC AIM.

Alarmed at the tendencies and dangers of intemperance and commiserating the evils caused by it, these thousands of women have united their efforts for its extermination. They have set themselves to remove mountains. They have lifted up their voice against customs that have grown into the very life of the people; they have dared to "think God's thoughts after Him," and those thoughts have been crystallized into action for the benefit of a universal brotherhood. It has been said "the strongest arm in this world is not the arm of a blacksmith, nor the arm of a giant; it is the arm of a woman when God has put into it, through faith and submission to His will, His own moral omnipotence." If this be true then this large company of Christian women must be an immense power for good, an important factor in all that shall make for peace and purity in the land.

IN CANADA.

The first W. C. T. U. in Canada was organized in the spring of 1874, at Owen Sound, Ont., under the presidency of Mrs. Doyle, and its first work was that of "petitioning." They asked for a reduction of the number of licenses in the place, and their request was granted. In the subsequent campaign for the Dink Act in that county this union was particularly active. In 1877, at a conference of W. C. T. U. workers, held in Toronto, the Ontario Prohibition Union was formed, Mrs. Letitia Youmans being its first President. Vice-Presidents were elected representing each county. The corresponding Secretary was Miss Phelps, St. Catharines; Recording Secretary, Miss Allen, Kingston; Treasurer, Mrs. (Judge) Jones, Brantford. At that convention twenty-five unions were represented. To-day there are one hundred and eighty local unions in Ontario, with a membership of more than 5,000. Besides the general officers and county superintendents there are 22 superintendents of as many departments, each one doing active work during the season of the year which is most favorable to its prosecution, and each one is fully convinced that her special department is of the most importance. It may be asked, "What have they done?" The answer is not hard to give. First of all has been the work with the children, who have been gathered into "Bible," "Loyal Legion" and "C.M.Water Arrows" and taught regarding the nature and effects of alcohol. For years the unions have labored for the introduction of temperance text books in the Public schools, and in this behalf they have expended time, energy and money, every word of which covers a volume of meaning. They have approached methodical conventions to secure the testimony of the doctors on this question of temperance, and obtained a very decided reply in favor of total abstinence. They have been instrumental in banishing intoxicating liquor from the Lord's table, and they have circulated religious and temperance literature on every suitable occasion. The columns of the press have been kindly opened up to them, through which they have reached the homes of the land with their pleading for right home training for the boys and girls, and they have provided entertainment at the county fairs whereby many weak or thoughtless ones were kept from going astray, and were able to return to their homes at night sober, a surprise and joy to the dear ones who waited for them. These women have gone into prison and jails, and have given the message of pardon and life to many sin-tossed and despairing ones. They have sung the gospel of love in low, sweet tones to the sick and dying in hospitals; they have assisted in procuring purer surroundings for the soldiers in camp, for the sailors on our lakes and rivers, and for the railway men in shops and trains. They have added to a very large extent in every Scott Act campaign while, in connection with their evangelistic meetings, many souls have been reclaimed, and many earnest Christian men and women to-day ascribe their restoration under God to the efforts of the W. C. T. U.

THE PRESENT AND FUTURE.

"What are they doing?" Still petitioning, still circulating literature, still teaching the children, still pleading with and praying for weak and wandering humanity everywhere. And this will be the answer to that question so long as the liquor traffic has an existence. Within the past few years a new element has come to help this work, that of the young ladies of Ontario. Sixteen of these societies, familiarly known as "Y.'s," comprising a membership of about 700, now stand shoulder to shoulder with their senior sisters in this service for God and home and native land. To these young ladies is largely committed the care of the juvenile work, boys' night schools, girls' sewing schools, flower mission and kitchen garden, each branch of which deserves more than a passing notice.

The local union membership fee is 50c. Half of this goes to the Provincial Union for general work, leaving only 25c. per member, so that with 5,000 members $1,250 is all that can be counted on for local work. The Provincial Union has the same means for the work of the twenty-two departments. It is hardly necessary to say that none of its officers are salaried, and if women were not keeping the house the society would have been bankrupt long ago. The Provincial Union has now become an incorporated society and is prepared to receive and hold property and bequests, and it is safe to say that in the event of large sums of money being entrusted to them the past training of its members will enable them to do the greatest amount of good with the least possible expense.

QUEBEC AND LOWER PROVINCES.

We come now to the W. C. T. U. of the Province of Quebec, where, in the village of Stanstead, in the year 1877, the first union was organized. But it was not until 1882, that the W. C. T. U. work may be said to have gained a foothold in this province. During that winter Mrs. Youmans visited Quebec and organized sixteen unions. The education of the children in temperance principles at once received the special attention of these earnest workers, and during the present year in response to frequent requests the Protestant Board of Education has ordered scientific temperance instruction to be given in the schools. Literature has been distributed, free reading room established, petitions of various kinds circulated and the temperance cause greatly strengthened. The Quebec Prohibition Union formed in 1883 now comprises 69 local unions, with a membership of over 3,000. The constitution and plans of work are similar to those of the Ontario union. In the Maritime provinces, Moncton, N. B., has the honor of having the first union, Mrs. E. J. Brown, president. A provincial union was formed in 1879, which in 1883 was merged in a Maritime union, respecting all the Maritime provinces. They have now twenty-five unions, with a continually increasing membership, and the lines of work followed have been similar to those laid down by the other provincial unions. British Columbia Prohibition Union was formed in 1883 and comprises ten unions, with a membership of about 600.

PROGRESS IN THE WEST.

A provincial union was organized in Manitoba last October, embracing four local unions, and unions have also been recently formed by Mrs. Youmans in the Northwest Territories. The Dominion W. C. T. U. was organized in Ottawa in February, 1885, the aim of which is to unite more closely in their work the Christian temperance women of the different provinces, and to devise plans for general work, these to be largely carried out by the provincial unions.

The official organ of all these unions is the Woman's Journal, published at Ottawa.

The total membership of the unions in Canada is about 10,000, and it is safe to say that twice that number may be counted on in any special emergency. We thus see that, as was predicted by the greatest of the Germans, "The ever feminine draweth on," and "organized work" is beyond all others the chosen method of her coming.

THE FISHERIES.

Halifax, Aug. 4.—Captain Scott has received from Admiral Loe, of the United States navy, now here on the flagship Richmond, series of six questions, on points in connection with the present condition of fishery affairs. They have been answered in writing and signed by Captain Scott as commissioner of the Canadian fishery protective service. It appears that there are no Canadian ports where American vessels engaged in fishing can replenish their stock of provisions, but on leaving for home they can take such as they need for the purpose only. American vessels must enter and clear at custom houses when even anchoring for shelter. Question of "repairs" under treaty of 1881 must be left to the judgment of collectors. American fishermen can only take, cure and dry fish at Magdalen Island.

Souris, P. E. I., Aug. 4.—A large fleet of American seiners were off East Point yesterday, and an American man-of-war can also be seen at anchor three or four miles from shore, whose commander boarded a number of American vessels and gave the captains, it is credibly informed, some very wholesome advice. He told them that whenever they had occasion to call at Canadian ports to allow none of their crew to land before entering at the customs, and to comply with the Canadian laws while in port in every particular. He also cautioned them against either fishing or preparing to fish within the three mile limit, and said he: "If I catch you fishing within the limit, and if Canadian cruisers be not there to see you I shall seize you myself." He said further, that in the event of a dispute arising as to the distance from shore between a cruiser and any of their vessels taken in the act of seining, the latter should remain just where they were seining and the distance was ascertained by actual measurement; and he added: "If you are in the limit, the cruiser has you, and if not, so much the better for you. Do what is right, and obey the laws of the country in which you are engaged fishing, and you will have the American Government, and for that matter the whole American nation to defend you, but remember you must obey the law."

WINNIPEG v. QU'APPELLE.

The Cricket match between the Winnipeg and Qu'Appelle Cricket Clubs resulted in a victory for the Qu'Appelle club.

This cricket match, which had been looked forward to with great interest, not only by the cricketers themselves, but the towns people generally (especially after the easy defeat of the Qu'Appelle Valley C. C. in one innings on Saturday) took place here on Monday, and resulted in a victory for the Qu'Appelle club.

The game was decided on the first innings according to the recognized rules of cricket in a one day's match when there is not time to play out two innings on each side, at the same time it is only fair to say that the match was won on its merits all through, as at the time for closing play the home eleven had been in their 2nd innings 54 runs with four wickets down while, the Winnipeg team in their 2nd innings only made 41 runs for the same number of wickets.

The weather proved most auspicious, being cool with a pleasant breeze not sufficiently strong to interfere with the players. The Winnipeg men went first to the wickets, and shortly afterwards to the surprise of the Winnipeggers, and to the delight of the home club, Harry Flavel, the Qu'Appelle bowler, excelled his feat at Indian Head by bowling 3 Winnipeg wickets with 3 successive balls thus entitling him to a "new hat" which was subscribed for on the spot. Flavel was well backed up by his colleagues, the Qu'Appelle fielding being really good, especially that of H. I. B. Tydd, the long stop, and the Winnipeg innings closed for 73. The Qu'Appelle boys lost no time in handling the willow, and were not got rid of until they had put together the handsome total of 108 runs thus exceeding their opponents by 35 runs. It is noticeable that not a single member of the eleven retired with an "0" in this innings.

At 13 o'clock the rival teams sat down to an elegant lunch supplied by "Whiting Bros." of Qu'Appelle, who must be complimented on the taste displayed in their department of the day's proceedings. The Qu'Appelle brass band discoursed sweet music to the large number of spectators on the ground during the afternoon.

The Winnipeg eleven proved much more stubborn antagonists in their 2nd innings, and compiled the large total of 190 runs of which H. I. B. Tydd, their captain made 58 (not out) and T. O. Townley 47. By this time it was within a few minutes of 18 o'clock, and as it had been agreed that the match should close at 18.45, it was manifest, that, unless Winnipeg could dispose of Qu'Appelle far easier than before the game would have to be decided on the 1st innings. The Winnipeg men played hard to save defeat, but thanks to the fine display of batting exhibited by H. Flavel, who went first to the wicket, and carried out his bat at the close of the game, and also the steady play of Messrs. Peck and Inge, the task proved too much for Winnipeg, and with a score of 54 for 4 wickets, and 6 good men in reserve it is more than probable that their score would have again been overtopped had time allowed the innings to be finished. Nothing could exceed the courteous and friendly feeling shown by the Winnipeg eleven throughout the match, and to use Mr. Cameron's own words, "he and his men knew how to take their defeat as cricketers." The home team are enthusiastic over the cordiality and good friendship of their guests, and while justly proud of their well earned victory have nothing but good words to say for their opponents. The Qu'Appelle cricket club holds the proud position of being the only club with the exception of Russell, of Assiniboia, which has so far succeeded in lowering the colors of the Winnipeg cricketers in their western tour.

At the conclusion of the match the visitors were entertained at dinner by the home club at the Leland House. This dinner was certainly one of the best ever served in the town, and proved a great success. And here tribute must be paid to the liberal manner in which our townspeople assisted the club in making the financial arrangements necessary for the entertainment. At the dinner conviviality reigned supreme, and the Winnipeg men were evidently more than pleased with the hospitable reception given them, which the captain was good enough to call a "royal" one. The toasts of the rival clubs, the contending eleven, and their captains, were drunk with rounds of applause and the musical remains of their all being jolly good fellows. Even the vision of fair ladies anxiously on the look out for partners from among the heroes of the day scarce had power to draw the reluctant athletes from the hospitable board.

Unfortunately the necessity of catching the train for Regina compelled the visitors to leave the ball room at an early hour, and the "send off" at the station was a fitting termination to a day memorable in the annals of the Qu'Appelle cricket club. Appended is the full score:—

The splendid day's work done by the cricketers was handsomely climaxed by the ladies of Qu'Appelle who gave a grand ball in the immigrant building at night. The rooms were most tastefully decorated, and excellent music was furnished by the Qu'Appelle string band. There was a large number present who enjoyed themselves to the utmost, and a more complete success could not have been desired. A very fine lunch was provided by the ladies who deserve the highest praise for their excellent management and efforts put forth in bringing about the success of the ball.

To the Editor of the Progress, —

Sir: Allow me to answer a letter in your last issue concerning the health inspector and the importance of this position at this season of the year. I answer that the duty or duties of the health inspector have been performed, if not the council would have found it out before now without being told of it by some one person that is seeking office and cannot get one. The people of the tavern ought not to throw stones when they live in glass houses for they may break some of the glass. If any one wants to quarrel with the police he can do so, for I find they are not in the fault though blamed for it. The appointment is so noble and the salary so great the complainant can get the position by application at the next council meeting as he seems to be so clean and neat in tongue and appearance.

Yours, etc.,

EDWARD DANIELS.

WOLSELEY.

To the Editor of The Progress.

Sir. Kindly allow me through the columns of your paper to inform the farmers of Assiniboia that I have succeeded in having arrangements made with the several agricultural societies along the line of the C. P. R. to hold there fall shows on successive days, commencing with Moosemin on Wednesday, the 28th Sept. I have invited Hon. Mr. Carling, Dominion Minister of Agriculture, to attend our shows and believe from his reply he will do so unless something unexpected prevents. I also am pleased to inform you that Mr. Van Horne, Vice-President of the C. P. R., has granted my request in the matter of giving free passes over the C. P. R. coming and going to eastern news paper reporters whom we may arrange with to attend our falls. I hope by this means to give our section of the Northwest, though it is so unfortunate as to have the railway passenger trains pass through in the night, thus preventing it being seen by the travelling public, an advertisement that will be a benefit. I have written to leading men in each town along the line and asked them to have the several agricultural societies send a representative each, to meet at Wolseley on Saturday next, the 13th inst., for the purpose of arranging a committee to take charge and help manage the business. I may say I have been over a large portion of the district in the last few days, and I am firmly of the opinion we will be able to make a splendid exhibition of farm produce and stock each and every show. I hope to have a large number of the leading newspapers in eastern Canada represented and see for themselves what we can do in the shape of farming in Assiniboia. All can readily understand the advantage this will be to us, and to make it a success I ask the hearty co-operation of all the societies and particularly the ladies without whose valuable assistance all such undertakings would be a failure.

Yours, &c.,

W. D. PERRY.
